

WINE LIST

Let yourself be taken on a journey of fine wine and Champagne at Corinthia Hotel London

Our experienced team of Sommeliers and Wine Consultants pride themselves on presenting an extensive range of some of the finest labels from across the globe. Our wine list is made up of more than 400 wines and Champagnes carefully hand-picked to provide an exceptional choice to our guests.

It begins with our team continuously developing their knowledge and sourcing wine estates that use artisan wine production methods to reflect the regional grape varieties and their unique properties.

We select only the most passionate of wine makers as the production of these wines demands the highest levels of attention and expertise. We are proud to be able to share these outstanding wines with you and love to have the opportunity to introduce our guests to something new. Our wines are stored in temperature controlled fridges to enable us to serve them in the perfect condition and at the ideal temperature.

Our wide selection of wines-by-the-glass is changed quarterly so that we can provide an interesting range of wines for all of our guests to enjoy. We aim to give everyone the chance to try premium wines by the glass.

Throughout the year, our wine program will offer a series of tastings hosted by the wine producers themselves and guided dinners providing delicious fare and education to our guests. In addition, every Wednesday, we offer several unique wines by the glass that are usually only available by the bottle. These events are a unique opportunity to taste some highly acclaimed and rare wines.

BURGUNDY

The Bourgogne region has perfect weather for growing ripe, flavourful grapes with rich soils that combine to become over 100 appellations that are recognised around the world. Located in the east-central part of France, Burgundy has 5 wine growing areas: Chablis, Côte de Nuits, Côte de Beaune, Côte Chalonnaise, Mâconnais. These top regions produce very complex Burgundies which are aged in small oak barrels, creating full bodied, creamy and complex wines.

GRAVES AND PESSAC-LÉOGNAN

This area of the Graves is located just south of the city of Bordeaux. Red wines from Pessac-Léognan have a powerful bouquet. The soil of Pessac-Léognan is composed of gravel terraces with sediments from different geological eras and the red wines have a powerful bouquet. Cabernet Sauvignon is the dominant grape variety, followed by Merlot.

SAINT-ESTÈPHE

Saint-Estèphe is the northernmost region. The soil of St-Estèphe is a heavy composite of clay washed from the Gironde. This soil type drains slowly and gives Saint-Estèphe estates an advantage during dry summers. The wines produced here tend to have more acidity than other red Bordeaux, they are richly coloured, deeply flavoured, and are known for their longevity.

Chateau Beau-Site, Cru Bourgeois, 2011	£102
Château Le Pagodes de Cos, 2009	£195

SAINT JULIEN

Saint-Julien is a small but important appellation of Bordeaux situated between Pauillac and Margaux. Its reputation is based on its status as a reliable source of consistently elegant, age-worthy wines. The grapes permitted for use here are Cabernet-Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Merlot, Carmenere, Petit Verdot and Malbec.

MARGAUX

Margaux is the most southern of Médoc's regions and is famous for producing well-rounded, gently perfumed wines, predominantly from Cabernet-Sauvignon. Their distinctive flavours and profile are often attributed to the local soils. In Margaux, the soils have a high gravel content, which leads to excellent drainage and a low level of nutrients.
