

DAY 1

Arrive Buenos Aires

Upon arrival to Buenos Aires your English guide will be awaiting you with a sign and accompany to the vehicle. Private transportation from Ezeiza airport to the selected hotel in Buenos Aires. Upon arrival to the hotel your guide will give you a welcome briefing.

In the evening, you will be taken to Rojo Tango. Everyone notes that Rojo Tango is not the average dinner and show. Guests are greeted with a glass of champagne before an excellent three-course meal is served; setting the scene for a sexy and intimate show, albeit one that does not really break any rules.

Here it is possible to discover the history of Argentina's tango, the sensual rhythm of life in Buenos Aires. From the "porteño" waterfronts at the turn of last century to Piazzolla's avant-garde vision, Tango remains Argentina's premier musical art form. Rojo Tango's dancers, singers and band have been acclaimed as some of Argentina's best.

Accommodation: Four Seasons Hotel Buenos Aires

Duration 2 Nights

Buenos Aires

Following breakfast discover the architecture of the "Belle Epoque", reflected in the palaces that were inhabited by the most aristocratic families of Buenos Aires. Alvear Avenue, one of the most aristocratic avenues in the city, has on its route an infinity of palaces and mansions that were inhabited by the most powerful class in the country. These buildings, most of which have been converted into hotels and embassies, show the predominant style of the Belle Epoque, the Academicism of the School of Fine Arts, the rage at that time in France and copied by the "Buenos Aires" who wanted to become in The "Paris of South America". Our tour continues through the Retiro neighborhood, passing through the beautiful Arroyo street, recently renovated, which culminates in San Martín square.

This afternoon, discover Argentina's beguiling Tango with a one hour lesson at Gala Tango.

DAY 5

Estancia Bamba de Areco to Mendoza

Early morning transfer from Estancia Bamba de Areco, to Buenos Aires Aeroparque Airport where you will take your local flight to Mendoza. Mendoza boasts one of the world's most charming wine routes, with beautiful landscapes and a variety of high-quality vineyards. On a 22-hectare estate at the foot of the Andes, Cecilia Diaz Chuit and Martín Rigal have created a splendid Spanish colonial-style hotel devoted to the joys of wine, complete with a wellness center and Moorish-inspired patios. In any season, the Mendoza wine country offers myriad activities and attractions that beckon to explore a region famed for sunny skies and nature's blessings. Visit the local vineyards or stroll through historic Mendoza before enjoying a glass of wine on the terrace and watching the sun set behind the Andes Mountains.

Cavas Wine Lodge is located in an exceptional environment in which the owners actively support the development of the region via their commitment to its protection. The combination of Cecilia Diaz Chuit's experience in hospitality and Martín Rigal's in farming, together with international experience, allowed the couple to take on a number of environmental changes. For example, the establishment has first set-up local recycling. Organic waste from the kitchen is turned into compost. This natural fertilizer is used in the local gardens and vineyards. Regarding energy; solar panels have halved gas consumption. Finally, Cavas Wine Lodge is the first hotel in the region of Mendoza to re-use water used on site. The water collected from sinks, showers and baths is filtered and used on site to irrigate the vines.

Iguazu Falls

Get ready for THE most stunning panoramic views of the greatest water spectacle in the world. The 275 falls of the Iguazu River spread out into a 2,700 meter-semicircle - approximately 800 meters in the Brazilian side, and 1,900 meters in the Argentinean side - right in front of you very eyes! You will have the chance to almost walk into the most famous fall in the park, the Devil's Throat, and feel the colossal power and deafening intensity of this natural wonder. Upon arriving at the park, there will be a short bus ride to the beginning of the trail, during which you can start to admire the beauty of the largest remaining stretch of Atlantic Forest in Southern Brazil. It is home to a rich biodiversity, consisting of representative species of the Brazilian fauna and flora, that includes the jaguar, broad-snouted caiman, purple parrot, harpy eagle, peroba pink ariticum, araucaria, and many others. The walkway is 1,200 meters long and offers several lookout points for a closer view of some of the falls. There is a variety of angles and possibilities for photographers to capture the Brazilian falls with some of the Argentina-side falls in the background. At the end of the over-water boardwalk is stunning panoramic of the Devil's Throat from just downstream. We recommend you make this tour in the morning (the park opens at 09am), but in case you prefer in the afternoon, or if your flight arrives during the day, you can enter the park until 3 p.m., as it closes at 4 p.m. The park is closed for visitors on Mondays. And if you have the time, be sure to check out the Bird Park, for an incredible fauna experience, right next to the falls.

This afternoon, enjoy a wet-and-wild boat ride on rapids and waterfalls is a must! It starts with a 3 km ride into the forest, in an electric open tour vehicle, accompanied by a guide that will share curiosities about the local flora and fauna. Then, an optional 600-meter walk on a wood pathway amidst the forest, leading to the hidden Salto Macuco waterfall. Finally, after packing your belongings in waterproof bags and putting on a life vest, you will embark on an inflatable boat ride up the Iguassu River, and enjoy a different up-close perspective of the magnificent falls. The experience culminates with a refreshing “baptism” under the waterfalls’ mist. An unforgettable and exciting adventure to cleanse your body and soul!

Following your boat trip, be utterly amazed by the most majestic water spectacle in the world from a unique and, literally, superior point of view! This 10-minute helicopter flight will take you over both, the Brazilian and the Argentinean national parks, for magnificent and unforgettable views of the falls.
